
Why I'm here

Well it's a long story but the long and short of it I needed to go out and make friends so my Mom said I should join a Church. I listen to a lot of podcasts and this group is one of them so I thought I could make my Mom and me happy and join a group like a church and make friends. Chris

I think a lot of people join church for the social aspects. I know one of my relatives did, the rest of them stayed away. You can find friends in so many other ways! Keep up the good, secular thoughts.
