I got Who would Jesus bomb

I've been yelled at a couple times over it

One time I come out of Sportsmans Guide and a guy walking around my car holding a bible he looked pissed but didn't say anything , and he had like 5 kids with him,they were wearing full camo,like his little army.

I pealed off that sticker, if anybody wants it ?

I couldn't carpool,this guy's wife would freak if I left my car at their place with it.

And other confrontations I've had

I've seen that bumper sticker before; perhaps it was your car I saw it on.

I remember a few years I saw a bumper sticker that read: "Merry Christ-Myth"

:laugh:

I used to have a Darwin fish, but it came off in a car wash... :(I just got my T Rex eating a fish... Very nice, and will look good. I do get a bit concerned that my employees with the jesus fishes on the backs of their cars may be offended, but I guess it's a chance I'm willing to take.
